

Asset Acquisition

An asset acquisition is a transaction in which a company acquires the assets of another company, such as equipment, inventory, intellectual property, or customer contracts. It allows the buyer to select specific assets while excluding liabilities or obligations.